

Here is a Lenten prayer, of unknown origin yet worthy (despite its archaic language) of being printed and placed on one's bedroom mirror. It expands on the March 2nd "Story for All Ages," during which Bristol Huffman spoke on heart and soul, mind and strength.

*Lord, make me kind!
The world is full enough of needless tears
And hungry hearts are full enough of nameless fears.
To these no vision of Thy humaneness appears.
Lord, make me kind.*

*Lord, make me think!
For thoughtlessness has caused so much of needless woe,
That thoughtless words of mine may grow and grow
Until, like torrents made, no thing can stay its flow.
Lord, make me think!*

*Lord, make me love!
And place love's sign upon the face of me,
That loveless men may pause and turn and see
A little of that love that comes from Thee.
Lord, make me love!*
